1. For several days up to 30 November 1946, twelve mine-sweepers from Warnemünde lay in Stralsund harbor. It is thought that they left for Wismar. During the period of their stay, a number of houses on the waterfront were requisitioned for shipboard personnel but subsequently were released.

2. After the departure of the minesweepers, two motor torpedo boats both loaded with a deck cargo of scrap iron, lay in the harbor for three days.

3. In late November 1946 a former German naval mine-locating craft with a particularly large radar net dropped anchor in Stralsund harbor.

50X1-HUM

4. the harbor of Stralsund is unsuitable for submarines because the approach from the open sea at that point is a long narrow channel not more than five meters deep.
